Doorbells of Florence, The Losowsky, Andrew

127 x 177 mm
128 pages

ISBN 9780811866491 - $39.95 HB

QTY:

This is a charming collection of short stories set beside photographs of doorbell panels in Florence, Italy. The stories are whimsical, quirky, sometimes laugh-out-loud funny, and often beautifully poignant. The author, a British journalist who lives in various cities around Europe, took the photos on a visit to Florence and wrote fictional musings on who lives at each of these residences, what happens behind these walls, or why a particular buzzer appears as it does. A lovely collection of stories beautifully illustrated with photographs of Florence.

Top Gear: Daft Concept Cars
Anon

145 x 175 mm
128 pages

ISBN 9781846078071 - $29.95 HB

QTY:

From flying cars to amphibious vehicles, solar-powered saloons to rockets on wheels, these are over 50 of the most wacky cars ever devised. Some concept cars are designed to demonstrate alternative materials and energy sources, or to showcase the gadgets of the future, or even cater for specific lifestyles or groups of people. Featuring everything from practical experiments such as the hatchback fire engine, and ideas that have managed to make it into production, to stunning yet impractical supercar concepts, this book both celebrates and cringes at some of motoring's most daft - and even idiotic - ideas.
